Those who dare to dream are the ones who succeed

It was very reassuring when my team members stated that their savings on 'travel time' would be channelized for productive work offline for the direct benefit of our clients.

I am sharing some of the measures that we MGC Global Risk Advisory LLP have taken and state the same as reference for other business leaders. Each one of us leaders need to take their own calls for their business while reaching out to our people and giving them the assurance that we can tide over this situation. And we will. By proactively taking due precautions and ensuring that we limit the exposure to our people we need to play a responsible role for our society and country.

In our team townhall over video last evening to all our team members, our Managing Partner (Monish G Chatrath) gave a factual analysis of the current state of COVID 19 to all our people @MGC Global Risk Advisory LLP and dispelled unsubstantiated statements that were doing the rounds in social media to create unnecessary panic. Keeping the safety of our team members in mind, he has announced immediate temporary measures for our people to work from home while giving us the flexibility to come to office (if this was imperative to avail of our infrastructure & facilities) and given clear guidelines for those who needed to visit client locations. We have offered to have sanitizers and masks delivered to the homes of our team members who were unable to procure the same and our Managing Partner has asked each member of our team to directly let him know if any of them or members of their family are feeling unwell so that a doctor could be arranged for them, wherever required.
